Dear Residents,

Re: Community Information and Consultation Meeting – February 19, 2015

Based on demonstrated community need, the District of North Vancouver, in partnership with BC Housing and Turning Point Recovery Society, is exploring options to establish a support recovery house for men. This house would be modelled after the recently opened successful support recovery house for women (see photo) that provides a safe and supportive environment, training and services to help people recovering from substance use issues to restore their health and get back on their feet as full and active members of our community.

Support Recovery House for Women

A potential site adjacent to 2414 Windridge Drive has been identified for the men's support recovery house. At this time, District Staff and representatives from BC Housing and Turning Point would like to meet local residents to provide information and to receive community input.

Please join us on February 19, 2015 for a community information meeting.

Parkgate Community Centre (3625 Banff Court)
2nd Floor Multipurpose Room
6:30 - 8:00 pm

District staff, BC Housing and Turning Point will be in attendance to discuss preliminary ideas, to provide answers to questions, and to listen to your comments. Your feedback is important and will be used to inform planning directions and next steps for the project.

Potential Site

If you have any questions in advance of the meeting, please contact Annie Mauboules, Social Planner at the District of North Vancouver at (604) 990-2454 or by email at mauboulesa@dnv.org
