Dear Editor:

Re: Gas Pump Stickers a Futile Exercise \(http://www.nsnews.com/opinion/letters/letter-gas-pump-stickers-a-futile-exercise-1.2037445\), Aug. 21 Mailbox.

How right letter-writer Walter Cicha is regarding this ridiculous idea. What I would add, though, is that there is also zero verifiable proof that CO² is a contributing cause to climate change or if there was global warming, to global warming.

Yes, that is right. Despite the fact that 2015 is touted as the warmest year on record, the trend over the last almost 20 years has not indicated global warming at all — in fact, another Ice Age is once again being postulated.

This yo-yo-type science is indicative that the most advanced computer modelling cannot predict climate over long periods of time, no matter what the Suzuki /Gore gods say.
