Hello, I am writing this letter to inform you of my feelings about the North Shore bike trail system and what it stands for. These trails have brought myself and many groups of American friends across the border in search of trail riding. It would be a terrible shame if anything were to change what has become such a great thing Vancouver offers. There is no doubt that this area has a great name for itself in the biking community. People are willing to spend an arm and a leg to assure that their bikes are in tip top shape for a days ride. If their bike is outdated and not able to perform up to par, then a new bike will be purchased. Money needs to be spent to keep a good thing alive. One makes money when money is spent. I hope this letter reaches those who care about the well being of this particular community of outdoor enthusiasts.
